

DIVORCE AND FAMILY LAW

Q A divorce is in my future. How do I find a good lawyer?

A The best way to find a good divorce lawyer is to do one or all of the following:

1. Ask trusted non-divorce lawyers for recommendations. Chances are high your business or family attorney has a relationship with a family lawyer.
2. Review websites that perform peer-participation reviews such as Super Lawyers™ or The Best Lawyers in America™. Professionals within any industry are adept at giving good reviews for individuals who do great work.
3. Review company website profiles for attorneys who have been recommended to you. You can glean much from an attorney's bio and introduction statement. An interview will help you determine whether you and that lawyer are a good fit and share the same philosophy towards divorce. Gevurtz Menashe has 22 lawyers limiting their practice to Family Law and can handle any family law problem, whether large or small.
